

Tom Allen

Tom Allen is Vice President of Science and Research at Southwick Associates, overseeing a wide range of economic, statistical and evaluation projects. Before joining Southwick Associates full-time in 2007, Tom was an Associate Scientist in the Department of Resource Economics & Policy at the University of Maine for 25 years. He received his B.S. in Natural Resource Management and Land Use Planning and his M.S. in Community Development, both at the University of Maine. His work at Southwick Associates focuses on economic modeling and the economics fishing, hunting and outdoor recreation. He has conducted numerous economic and market studies for fish and game agencies, trade organizations and other entities across the U.S. Tom currently lives in Florida and Maine.

Dominic Dugré

Dominic was born and raised in Trois-Rivières, a city between Montreal and Quebec, and introduced to fishing by his father at a very early age and to hunting before the age of ten. Dominic is now a father of two boys aged of 18 and 13, with whom, along with his wife, he is now sharing his passion of the outdoors. Dominic obtained a law degree from Ottawa University in 1991. After working for a year in a legal aid office, he spent a year at the University of Waterloo studying in the Environment and Resources program. He then went to Laval University where he obtained a Master's Degree in Environmental law Ln 1999. Since 2000, he acts as legal advisor and General Secretary of the Quebec Outfitters Federation. As one of the founders of the Canadian Federation of Outfitter Associations in 2007, he acts as President of this organization since 2008.

Michael Sabbath

Michael Sabbath is a lawyer and author in Denver, Colorado. He writes for many hunting and shooting publications and lectures widely on hunting and shooting ethics and communication skills. He lectures on ethics and rhetoric to law associations and civic and business groups. He is the author of The Good, The Bad & The Difference: How to Talk with Children About Values, available on Amazon.com: <http://tinyurl.com/c5flmmu>. He returned last week from Namibia, West Africa, where he lectured at the general meeting of the Namibian Professional Hunters Association. He is currently writing two books on hunting and hunting ethics: Proud to Hunt: Tips on Being a Better Instructor and Student and The Honorable Hunter: Defending and Advancing Hunting and the Shooting Sports. Please visit his website, www.TheHonorableHunter.com.

Herb Atkinson

Herb Atkinson is the Region 10 Representative of Safari Club International. His region encompasses all of New Mexico and West Texas and is made up of seven chapters. Herb has served on the SCI board of directors for 21 years. During that time he has served on almost all of the SCI committees, including past chairman of the Record Book and World Hunting Awards Committee. He is currently serving once again on the Guides and Outfitters Committee along with his other committee assignments. At the SCI Annual Hunters Convention in February, Herb will be presented with the Outstanding Regional Representative of the Year Award for 2016. He resides in Roswell, New Mexico with his wife, Marla, where they are still making hunting memories with their two daughters and son-in-laws. His oldest daughter, Beth, serves as a member of the New Mexico Game and Fish Commission.